IGHT FACE TRIAL ON GAME LAW CHARGE

Game Warden Charges Grenada Countians with "Hunting Game Affected by High Water"—Affidavit Is Made against Warden for Killing Dog.

Eight of Grenada county's prominent citizens are scheduled to appear for trial before Esquire J. L. Harris, justice of the peace at Holcomb tomorrow (Saturday) for alleged violations of the game laws. They are: Grover Cunningham, Dot Hayden, R. N. Brooks, Jodie Brooks, Wagner Williams, Homer Williams, Lake Clark and W. K. Gray. The last named, Mr. Gray, is himself a magistrate in beat 5. The affidavits made by the county game warden, R. E. Hall, charge them with "hunting game affected by high water."

The gentlemen named spent several days during the latter part of March, just before the season closed on wild turkey, camping in the bottom below Holcomb. They were in three separate camps and two of the eight are said to have killed a turkey.

The chief question, it seems, around which the trial will revolve is just what is the natural habitat of wild turkey. It is true that much land was under water at the time the eight were camped in the bottom but it is true, too, that much of the land was not under water and whether or not the game being sought had been forced out of its natural habitat on account of the high water probably will be fully developed in the magistrate's court.

The Sentinel feels safe in asserting that none of the eight hunters to be tried would knowingly violate the game law. All of them are sportsmen and outdoor lovers and they always have exhibited the utmost respect for the game laws. The Sentinel is equally sure that it is not the intention of the county game warden to "persecute" anybody but it does know that he is ready and eager to "prosecute" anyone who, he believes, has transgressed any provision of the statutes whose observance he is charged with enforcing.

Another interesting trial that may probably be had tomorrow at Holcomb is that of the warden himself who is charged with killing a dog. The dog was killed by Mr. Hall on Wednesday of last week between Leflore and Parsons and supposedly was afflicted with rabies. An affidavit has been made against the warden and his trial probably will be had tomorrow.

Other trials may be had, too, at that time since affidavits have been made by Game Warden Hall against 28 or more Grenada countians for permitting their dogs to run at large.

It is understood that all of the defendants will fight most vigorously the charges against them and the outcome of the various trials will be awaited with interest.

LEGION TO MEET THURSDAY

The Grenada Post No. 35, The American Legion, will hold a regular meeting next Thursday evening, April 18, at 7:45 o'clock in the Mayor's Office in Grenada. Every member is urged to be present.

The enrollment of members in the local post has reached the three-score mark and it is the hope of officials and members of the post that every ex-service man in Grenada county will have his name placed on the roll. If this paper recalls correctly, the post is larger now than it has ever been except for one year when maybe a few more members were in the post. Legion posts elsewhere are accomplishing much for their communities and the Grenada post can do much if it receives the wholehearted support of all ex-soldiers.

Rev. J. R. Cunningham Ends Series of Sermons at Presbyterian Church

Teachings of Jesus Brought to Large Congregations—Lot Drives Hard Bargain with Abraham and Begins Social Compromise with Wrong and Is Told to Be "Broad and Not a Fogy"—Preaches Sermon on Parable of Prodigal Son—Discusses "The Church, the Establishment of God"—Uses as Text, "The Master Is Come and He Calleth for Thee."

The services at the Presbyterian church, being held by a former pastor, Rev. J. R. Cunningham, now of Bristol, Tenn., and which were referred to in these columns last week, were concluded Wednesday night. Mr. Cunningham preached only at the evening hour; there was no morning service any day. The meeting was not intended to be a "revival" in the usual acceptance of that word, yet it would be difficult to believe that one could sit under Mr. Cunningham's voice evening after evening without feeling that awakening known only to those who take the time to know their own weakness and failures and who realize that God is their Father and that they are objects of his mercy and love.

The Sentinel would like to follow in detail every sermon Mr. Cunningham delivered, but this is impossible with the space at command. On Thursday night of last week, his theme was, "God is the last and greatest authority." The sermon was based on the words of Jesus found in the fifth chapter of Matthew, when he stated, "Ye have heard," etc., but I say unto you," etc. On this occasion Jesus announced his authority and that he was speaking heaven's truths—the will of God.

Friday night, he used as a text, "And he pitched his tent toward Sodom," having reference, of course, to the associations of Abraham and Lot; the dispute between the tenders of their flocks and the realization by Abraham (then known as Abram) that it would be well for them to separate, and Abraham's kindly statement to Lot, his nephew, that they must dwell together in peace, and that Lot could have first choice of territory and he would dwell where Lot did not want. The preacher began with Abraham when he was told to take his flocks and herds out of Ur of the Chaldees and proceed to a new country which God would show him. There seems to have been a close tie between Abraham and Lot, therefore he took his nephew, who also had immense flocks and herds, with him. The preacher said that when Abraham told Lot to pick his territory, Lot acted the part of the present day business man—he drove the best bargain possible and evidently sniggered as to how he was putting it over on Abraham. Lot got the well watered valleys of the Jordan and Abraham, his benefactor and uncle, was compelled to take to the hills where there was a scarcity of water and grass. Lot never said, "I'll take a part of the well watered valleys and some of the hills." "Yes, I'll just run old Abraham into the dry hills," so "He pitched his tent toward Sodom," a city known for its harlots and its general corruption and forgetfulness of God. Lot, the minister said, "got along all right in the country; he made money, his flocks and his herds increased."

"But," said the preacher, "I imagine that when the daughters got well nigh grown the mother began to insist on Lot's moving into town where the daughters could have some advantages." Lot yielded. After in Sodom, the girls began to engage in social vices and excesses. Lot remonstrated, but was rather lectured that what was being done "was just a little thing" and that he must "be broad" and accept new conditions. Old fogies, the preacher said, insisted on observing the social amenities of the good mother and good grandmother. The minister said that most "broad" things were shallow, and cited as instances rivers, the waters of which spread over rocks that covered much territory, but said that usually such rivers were shallow. The minister also reminded his hearers that the Bible stated that the road to heaven was narrow. Many social excesses, including things that make men drunk come along, and while Lot still objected, he grew milder and submitted more and more to the blandishments of that society which too often comes of great wealth. Finally some of the daughters married, but according to conditions around them, they were not their husbands' only wife and likewise their husbands were not their only wives. Some of the daughters became the common property of men. Abraham lived perhaps a day's journey from Sodom and knew the wickedness of the place, and kept away from it, yet he never forgot his nephew and family, though he shuddered for their spiritual safety.

God sent messengers to Abraham and they talked together. These messengers told Abraham that God was going to destroy Sodom because of its sin, debauchery and wickedness, and Abraham begged that if there were 50 righteous people in all that city of several hundred thousand it be spared, and the heavenly messengers told him that if the 50 could be found, Sodom would be spared. Abraham got this request granted so easily and was so afraid that there were not even 50 godly people in the city, he asked that it be spared if there were 40 righteous, and got the promise that his request would be granted. Abraham continued to cut the number down by tens and got down even to 10 and was told by the messengers that Sodom would not be destroyed if ten good people could be found within its borders. The messengers left Abraham and naturally, on reaching Sodom, sought the home of Abraham's nephew, Lot. When the sinful, harlot loving, material minded, money getting people of Sodom heard that these messengers were at Lot's home, a mob gathered to wreak vengeance, but because of Lot, desisted from their wicked purposes.

Mr. Cunningham told his hearers that if they thought he was overdrawing the picture of the life of Sodom, just to look at the morning papers of tomorrow and that they would find recorded in them things happening right here in this state and in this country quite on a parallel with the events of Sodom. He said America was in a mad race of money getting with other attendant sins.

He called attention to what it means to have a godly friend, one to intercede with the Master as Abraham did for Sodom and Lot. He said that he was sure his congregation would not overlook what it meant to have 50, yet only 10, righteous people in a town or city. He made a most effective ham showed an eloquence and a poise seldom exhibited by one so young as he. He displayed, without attempting to do so, a mastery of language and the ease with which he drove home his points was remarkable. What he had to say was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all who heard him.

President Andrew Carothers announced the nomination of officers to be held at the next meeting and he read a letter from the Clarkdale club expressing its joy at having been hosts to Rotarians from Grenada at the district conference some days ago.

Guests at Tuesday's luncheon were Mr. K. H. Stough, of Jackson, Rev. J. H. Boosey and Messrs. O. F. Lawrence, W. H. Kirk and John S. McRae, Jr., of Grenada.

SERVICES ANNOUNCED

AT ALL SAINTS CHURCH

Dr. J. H. Boosey, who recently accepted the call to All Saints Episcopal Church in Grenada, has arrived with his family and has made a most pleasing impression on those who have got to know him. He has met with unusual success in his ministry and the Grenada church is destined to grow under his leadership.

Dr. Boosey announces the following services for next Sunday: Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m.; Sunday School at 9:45 a. m.; Morning Prayer and Sermon at 11 o'clock; Young Peoples Service League at 6:30 p. m.

Program Announced For Annual Meeting

Schoolmasters' Club Arranges Program for Field and Literary Meet to be Held in Grenada Next Friday.

The North Central Mississippi Schoolmasters' Club will hold its annual literary and field meet in Grenada next Friday, April 19, at which time representatives from the various high schools in this section will meet to contest for the different honors.

The program committee has arranged the following schedule of events for the day:

At 9 a. m., in the high school auditorium preliminaries will be held in vocal quartets and piano. At the same hour, the declamation contest will be staged in the grammar school auditorium and the expression contest will be held in the auditorium of Grenada College. The finals in these four events will be held that night at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The field events will be held at the North Mississippi fairgrounds and are to begin at 10:30 a. m. The Parent-Teachers Association of Grenada will serve luncheon at noon at the fairgrounds. The program of events includes the 100 yard dash; 50 yard dash for girls; 440 yard dash; shot put; 200 yard relay; 4 girls; running high jump; boys; running broad jump; boys; 220 yard dash; running broad jump; girls; 1 mile race; running high jump; girls; discus throw; 880 yard run; 220 yard low hurdles; 120 yard high hurdles; pole vault; mile relay race; 4 boys; volley ball and tennis. The tennis matches will be played on the campus of Grenada College.

Grenada is preparing and expecting to welcome a great throng of visitors to which is one of the outstanding ones of the scholastic year.

Officeholders Give To G. O. P. Campaign

Affidavits Show Federal Appointees Have Contributed in Recent Years to Funds of Republican Campaign.

Washington, April 5.—Letters, telegrams and affidavits to show that large sums of money were contributed in recent years to Republican campaign funds by postmasters and other federal office holders in Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, and Tennessee were put into the record of the Senate Patronage committee today by Chairman Brookhart.

Affidavits collected by the post-office department at the request of the committee disclosed that more than $12,000 was contributed by 110 postmasters of Mississippi, one of them giving $2,125. Some of the money, the affidavits said, went to E. O. Boosey, husband of the negro Republican national committeewoman for that state. A total of 154 postmasters said they had never contributed.

Texas letters put into the record at the request of R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman for that state, were laudatory of the methods used by his organization. A committee check up of records furnished by Leonard Withington, secretary of the Texas Republican state organization disclosed, however, that a large number of them were from federal office holders, most of them postmasters, who had been regular contributors to Creager's campaign funds.

A former postmaster in Arkansas said in an affidavit that he had paid $378 to his Republican

OLD LETTER REVEALS CONDITIONS AFTER WAR

Editor Sentinel:

I ran across the enclosed newspaper clipping the other day in looking over some old papers. The article appeared in a newspaper published in Grenada some fifty odd years ago. If you see fit, you may reproduce the letter, but please do not mention my name or that of the author of the letter, for he has a number of relatives who do not live far away, many of whom, I fear, would want to deny that their father wrote such a letter, yet out of that father's struggles and toils from daylight until dark, twelve months in the year, have come fairly well educated children and numerous grandchildren. As I understand, some of the descendants of the 40 per cent money lenders the letter refers to are among the wealthy of the country.

My editor: here I come, you eddum tother weak in yore paiper about furtigting the war. "Onlooker" Writes Letter to Sentinel about Happenings in State's Capital

Speculation as to Legislative Meet—Auditor's Figures Showing Only Small Deficit Hit Another Extraordinary Session of Legislature between Eyes—Guessing on Road Legislation—Legislature or Governor Must Back Up If They Get Together Which It Seems Would Make Both of Them Swallow Their Words—Speaks of Jackson's Growth Which Is Remarkable.

or Sentinel:

I have not been taking a vacation but you told me to begin with that you just wanted "an occasional communication," so that is what I have been giving you.

The people of any state are always more than usually interested in the doings around their state capital, and particularly in times when Governors are being booted out of office and when others are being tried for high crimes and misdemeanors. Mississippi is usually at the front line with the spectacular. Just the other day we heard a former Mississippian who was passing through the state and who was expending his opinions on sundry things, say of Mississippi, "he can do more things to expose what is hid under the gable end of her trousers than any other state in the Union, yet I love her; she beats 'em all, but I do wish that your leaders would show more common sense and that you cease to place all the half witted men you have in office in Jackson." Now there is an element of truth in what this man said, but what he stated can be about as truthfully said of other states. Too many who have no other means of support outside of holding office are elected in this state. It used to be that the first test was, "Is he qualified?" Now the test too often is, "Will he line up?" Alas this is too true of every state in the Union.

There are too many people, I often think, who give no attention to public matters except at rare intervals or when election day comes around, hence it is that they must get their information second hand and depend largely upon some one else for conclusions.

Gov. Bilbo has not yet made public the date of calling the legislature in another extraordinary session. If he has decided on a call, he has confided to but few. Speculation has it both ways that he will and that he will not call another session. If State Auditor White's figures are correct as to the finances, it is manifest that no legislative act is needed to get revenue to run the state until January, 1930. White gives the figures to show that there will be a deficit at that time of only about $36,000, which can be easily taken care of at the 1930 legislative session.

Most people feel that the more frequently the legislature meets the better for the general welfare. A lot is being said by a few about the necessity of Gov. Bilbo and the lower house of the legislature burying the hatchet. It is always well for men to get together and to forget their differences; that's the Christian religion and then it is good from every angle. But Onlooker is unable to see how the lower house of the legislature can come to the Governor's terms as to road legislation and as to revenue without stultifying itself and virtually admitting that it has acted the part of a nincompoop. On the other hand in view of the Governor's pronouncements, we can hardly see how he can sit still and accept the house's road formula and its bills for raising revenue which he has repeatedly vetoed.

Sometimes men get themselves in such a devil of a fix that they are ashamed to back up. They say dun with it two. pore man ketches it in waw, in peace, in hell; hiz onli saife plaice is heven.

yer merchants are gettin us down thar tother day and tryed to borrow seventy dollars, an the man wanted forty pur sent, if that ain't wasten ushury, what is it.

GUILD WILL PRESENT PLAY "QUALITY STREET", APRIL 20

On April 20th, the night of annual Homecoming Day, the Play-ers Guild of Grenada College will present Sir James Barrie's "Quality Street" under direction of Miss Ruth G. Bale. From all accounts "Quality Street" promises to be even more pleasing and artistic than the successful productions already presented by the guild this year. The atmosphere of the play will be carried out in costumes and scenery, including such details as the furnishings of the "dear blue and white room" and handsome military costumes of the period of the Napoleonic Wars, ordered from a leading house.

The characters have been carefully selected and will be played by distinctive types who have won much favor in other plays. The regular cast, while small, includes three town students, Miss Fay Gunn, Miss Elizabeth Holder and Miss Lulu Mae Provine, while Misses Thelma Jackson, Sara Cunningham and Corrie Mae Smith and a number of Grenada's junior stars, Frank and Gus Gerard, Annie Anderson, Peggie Spain, Frank and Rice York, Edith Penn, Bobby Sharp, Geraldine Childers, Frank Timms, Elizabeth Patterson, Anne Smalwood and Nancy Richards, are in the supporting cast.

Other favorite players in regular roles are Misses Elizabeth and Mary Miller, Mary, Bickel

GRENADA BAPTISTS IN GREAT REVIVAL

Dr. Norman W. Cox, of Meridian, Delivers Powerful Messages in Two Weeks' Meet at First Baptist Church—Sermon Subjects Announced.

The series of revival meetings at the First Baptist Church, which commenced last Sunday, have had a fine opening week and the prospects for large and gratifying results are most promising. Dr. W. E. Farr, the pastor, preached to a great congregation at the initial service last Sunday morning. The spirit of the people and the atmosphere of the service were prophetic of the week which has followed.

The fine service of song under the leadership of Joe Canzonieri, of Jackson, has not only been highly enjoyable but a real spiritual blessing. "Brother Joe," as he is affectionately known to thousands in Mississippi and in the South, is one of God's great gifts of sunshine, good sense, sweet song and spiritual inspiration to all who come into fellowship with his radiant personality. He knows the gospel, loves the gospel, sings the gospel in a way surpassed by none and equalled by few.

Dr. Norman W. Cox, of Meridian, the preacher for the meetings, arrived in the city Monday and has preached with earnestness and zest to large and appreciative congregations. He has had large and successful experience, both as a pastor and evangelist, which has greatly enriched his ministry. The First Baptist Church invites the people of Grenada and vicinity to attend the services.

Dr. Cox preached Tuesday night on the interesting topic, "We Must Go To Christ, or Go Crazy." His subject for Wednesday night was, "The Six Fold Path to the House of Happiness." In commenting on that subject, he said, "Every normal person wants to be happy. All the quest for happiness on the part of men has been along six paths. Some of these paths are a snare and a delusion. In fact only one of them the preacher states actually reaches the true house of happiness. Many of them bring some pleasures along the way but only one reaches the true goal of man's aspiration for happiness. What is it? Well, we will see tonight."

Announcement as to themes for coming sermons are as follows:

The sermon subject for tomorrow (Saturday) night will be, "The Devil's Method of Catching Suckers—Don't Be One." The subjects for Sunday have not been announced but the following will be the themes for the sermons of the first four nights of next week:

Monday, "Fifteen Minutes After The Lights Go Out"

Tuesday, "Is There A Hell?"

Wednesday, "The Password Into The Eternal Temple"

Thursday, "The Drama of Life In Three Acts"

The subject for Wednesday night will be of special interest to men who are members of fraternal orders. Dr. Cox has delivered this message to thousands of men in many states. It is not for men only. Everybody is invited. But it is of special interest to men.

Morning services are being held from ten to eleven each day except Saturday and Monday.

B. Y. P. U. MET SUNDAY

The Grenada County B. Y. P. U. Association met in Grenada last Sunday, April 7. Mrs. G. W. Jennings, the president, called the meeting to order. The reports from the different general officers were given. The Grenada Unions won the attendance banner again. After several enjoyable talks, the Holcomb Union presented the play, "Farmer Brown's Conversations." Miss Louise Smith gave a special number. Mr. Joe Canzonieri, the singer, sang a solo. Refreshments were then served to the seventy-five present. The next meeting place is Graysport, July 7.

COTTON REPORT

There were 8,803 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned and to be ginned in Grenada County, from the crop of 1928, as compared with 6,801 bales for the crop of 1927.

Jones, Rivers Elder, Helen Canada and Evelyn Barrow, while half a dozen more of the most attractive college girls are in the ensembles. Those who saw "Quality Street" in pictures at the Grenada Theatre last year know just how delightful it is. And with the added subtleties of humor and charming style of Barrie's lines it is even more pleasing. It delves deep into human emotions and is full of fine sensitiveness of feeling and is Barrie's most entrancing. It is to be the last production of the Play-ers Guild this year.

Tickets are on sale in advance, admission 35c, 50c and 75c.

REV. J. R. CUNNINGHAM.

It is a rare thing indeed that one comes in contact with a man who is so evenly balanced as Rev. J. R. Cunningham who came back to Grenada after an absence of six years to deliver some gospel messages from the pulpit of the Presbyterian church of which he was for several years the honored, able and faithful pastor.

In Mr. Cunningham as a messenger of the Most High, there is a beautiful blending of eloquence without any effort to be so; of logic which seemingly comes as smoothly as it is for the limpid waters of a silvery stream to seek their level; of pathos that is as natural as the tear in the eye which flows from a distressed heart and mind. With these attributes is combined a force and power that mark him as an extraordinary man and as one destined, because of what he is and of what he strives to be, to ascend the mountain tops of what the world calls fame and accomplishments.

His sermons are an intellectual treat and a feast for the soul. His appearance behind the sacred desk compels attention and carries conviction. He makes no pretense of being what he is not. His ease of manner, with a graciousness which few men possess, stamp him as one far above what he appears to be. The divine finger has written in his face that he is worthy of trust and that his thoughts and aspirations are above the sordid affairs of life, and apart from those disturbing elements that tend to press out of men's lives those things that endure when the ephemeral things of the world are gone never to return.

He is the old time preacher with a burning message that fits the new time day. He is the old time preacher who is bold to proclaim that old time principles never change and that what was best in the days and centuries past, is best today.

He arraigns sin and the persistent sinner yet he does it in such a way as not to provoke. What he says that may of itself be harsh is softened by what his hearers at once realize are the yearnings of his innermost soul.

Mr. Cunningham is a student. He is striving all the while to know more of men and of human nature. He makes the best books his companions and out of them he is drinking those draughts that strengthen his noblest impulses and that tend to make him better and better prepared to serve his fellow man and to show that there is a beauty and a reality in the religion of Jesus Christ.

We feel that the Sentinel is but paying deserved praise to a consecrated, able and clear thinking man in these lines. If a political leader or leader in purely civic matters had visited Grenada and made his appearance on the public platform, the public would expect some editorial expression as to the man and at least something of what he had said, hence it is more than proper, we feel, to speak words of truth and soberness as to this man who is such an effective messenger of the religion and the life Jesus came to show to the world. The Christian church may be halting because of many things, but many think that one of its chief drawbacks is the lack of intelligent leadership upon the part of the ministry. But in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the criticised minister is doing far better than the criticiser.

If his health is spared, Rev. J. R. Cunningham will be justly regarded when he reaches his half century milestone as one of the ablest, most effective and purest minded ministers in the United States.

Grenada's prayers and good wishes will follow Mr. Cunningham wherever he may go. We think of him here as one of us—as our own. And we believe we can say for him that, regardless of his length of days, one of the tenderest and warmest places in his heart will be filled by Grenada and her people. If he is blessed with old age, as we trust he may be, as his sun nears its setting, he will most frequently think of Grenada and the people here who so generously loved and esteemed him in the younger days of his ministry and who gave him that cheer and comfort that is milk and honey to every man and more particularly to a young man.

His visit to Grenada has been a benediction to the community.

FIRE INSURANCE RATES HIGH.

"It seems that the town of West Point is making a drive for lower fire insurance rates. We do not know just what the rate is in West Point but we do happen to know that the rate is excessive in a great many towns of this state. In fact one of the greatest needs of the small town today is a more reasonable fire insurance rate. Business men who do not have an abundance of capital and who have to buy goods on credit are compelled to carry fire insurance for the protection of the creditor company. In some towns this rate is so unreasonably high that it means the difference between success and failure with many concerns.

"The Mississippi Rating Bureau fixes this rate. There is no escape from it. The legislature must find some way to deal with this important matter for the protection of the people or else abolish the rating bureau entirely. There is no good reason why property should be confiscated.

"As a matter of fact property owners should co-operate in every possible way to protect their buildings from fire. Every town ought to have an organization for fighting fire, where they can not have a paid fire department, but when this is done they should be given a rate somewhere within the bounds of reason."

The above is taken from the editorial columns of the Weekly Mississippian of April 5. Our good friend, A. C. Anderson, editor of the Weekly Mississippian, was a member of the legislature that passed the present scheme for fixing fire insurance rates and, as we recall, voted for the law.

The Sentinel is about the only newspaper in the state that pointed out at the time that the legislature was being hoodwinked, and that the law being proposed would practically leave the fixing of fire insurance rates in the hands of the fire insurance companies.

It used to be said that "it takes two to make a trade", but that is not true in many instances now, and one of those instances is fire insurance rates.

Under banking regulations and the requirements of the commercial world, people are virtually compelled to carry fire risks on their property. The insurer has no more to say about what he shall pay than a billy goat has about the prices of jeans breeches.

The passage of the present law was handled by ones interested in fire insurance companies. They "fixed" it. It was heralded at the time as "one of the big things of the Whitfield administration", and as another one of the many gestures being made about that time "that business should have a square deal in Mississippi". The lamented Governor had no part in it, and being wholly unused to the game of politics and the arts of "legislative fixers", signed the bill under the advice of some of his friends. The result has been all we pointed out, yet even worse than we then thought we foresaw.

Gov. Bilbo had an opportunity to save the people of the state many thousand dollars a year by putting the forces of his administration at its very beginning behind a move to modify or change the fire insurance law, but he failed in this important matter, and the people who must carry fire risks, like Israel of old, have been forced to utter the piteous wail, "how long, how long?"

The fire insurance companies were on the job when the present legislature was organized, you bet your boots they were. They were so "clever" as to get a majority on one of the committees which would handle fire insurance bills, men who were either interested in writing fire insurance, or in fire insurance companies. Yes, "That's business" but whose business?

Nevertheless, Hon. J. N. Provine of this county was able, after much labor and continued jockeying, to get through the 1928 session of the legislature a law giving the insuring public one of the three members of the fire rating commission. The 1924 law gave the whole thing, body and baggage, into the hands of the fire insurance companies, and you may bet your last dollar that they did not fail to use the power placed in their hands to increase rates.

We imagine that many of the fire insurance companies are snickering in their sleeves. They say, we suspect; "You let Stokes Robertson get after us, but now we are after you and are getting back much more than we were compelled to pay Stokes for violating the then insurance law" which forbade a combination to fix rates.

Mutual fire insurance companies of long standing are writing a good deal of business in Mississippi at rates far below what the corporation companies are charging. They are doing some of this right here in Grenada County.

The West Point Chamber of Commerce is busying itself trying to get lower rates.

Of course the insured should use every care and precaution to prevent fires. It is entirely proper for a fire insurance company to charge a higher rate, for instance, on a building covered with shingles than on one covered with noncombustible material. Dilapidated out-houses increase the insurance hazard, and there are numerous other things that properly enter into a correct fire insurance rate.

IT TAKES SOME PEOPLE A LONG TIME TO LEARN

The world, according to Bible chronology, is six thousand years old. God began from the very first to speak to his creatures made in his "own image", and has never wavered in his purpose from that day up to this good hour to talk to men and women and to try to get them to understand him, to understand the highest purposes of their living and that, in the course of years, all must move out from this sphere of life into another.

God, it would seem, has done all within his power to get the created to know the Creator as he is. In this statement, no irreverence is meant.

God is talking to people today. Some one with more mirthful curiosity than seriousness and soundness of judgment, will want to ask, "Tell me, if you can, when God talked to me". Our answer would be, at least in part, "He talks to you every time you have a noble purpose or aim and every time you decide to refrain from doing a thing that you feel is wrong". "Explain, please", the agnostic will ask. Our answer to him would, in brief, be, "tell me how and why came you into this world, and who gave you power to see, hear, smell, touch, taste, feel and think".

Let the critical explain why the stars, the moon, day time and night time. Let him also tell us how it is that a voice in New York is heard in the flash of an eye in Grenada. Make plain, the radio, Mr. Agnostic, and you shall go head, to stand there at least for a while.

The baby in the cradle; the mother's lullaby; the memories that tender and beautiful songs kindle in the heart; the songs of the birds; the ripple of silvery waters; the aroma which brings the humming bird to the flower garden; the bee gathering honey from the dew-drop and from the flower; the eagle in the air; the tie that binds one to home; the holy and sacred love of father and mother; the God-blessed relations between the good husband and the loving wife; the comforting touch of the divine hand when loved ones must stand around the bedside of one dearer to their hearts than life itself while they watch the tide ebb and flow between life and death; the voice that speaks from somewhere when earthly ties are severed and the spirits of those who occupy the tenderest recesses of the heart are called away—yes, all these and ten thousand other things tell us of God and that he is our father and that he loves us with a love that human tongue can never express.

Yes, it takes some people a long time to learn that their sins cannot be covered. Yes, it takes some people a long time to learn that they must, like the prodigal son in a far country, start toward their heavenly father before he can do for them that for which his heart yearns. As the misconduct, the sin, of a child hurts an earthly parent so, in a deeper sense, our sins, our misconduct, hurt our heavenly father. He wants all his children to come home. He is ready to give them a feast whenever they come.

"PEACE, PEACE, PEACE", THEY CRY.

The echo of "peace, peace, peace" is emanating from certain quarters regarding what the legislature should do. Who started the fuss anyhow?

The peace cry reminds us of a story told by Private John Allen when he was stamping Mississippi in 1891 for the reelection of Gen. J. Z. George and in opposition to the Populist scheme for a "sub-treasury law".

John said the Populists came to the Democratic party like an Ishmaelite and that their proposition with their sub-treasury scheme was but an illustration of the act of a hungry Confederate soldier during the Civil War, winning a farmer's fat rooster.

A farmer came riding along the road one joyous spring afternoon, Mr. Allen said, with a fat rooster tied to the horn of his saddle. A hungry soldier chanced to be on the roadside shuffling a deck of cards and when he saw the rooster visions of a good dinner and of having his hunger appeased came over him, so he said to the farmer, "I can beat you playing cards for that rooster". The farmer said in response to the challenge, "thar's nobody in this naborhood who's ever done that". The game began. The soldier proved to be an easy winner and as the sturdy farmer ambled to his horse and began to untie the string that held the chicken fast, it dawned on him that he had allowed the soldier to gamble with him without requiring him to put up a single cent, so he said, "soldier you beat me playing cards, but what did you put up against my chicken?"

What have the fellows now crying peace got to put up? How far are they willing to go down the road for peace?

THE RECORD BREAKING NEW NASH "400"

All these features..All this extra equipment
... at no extra cost!

The new features and equipment of the Nash "400" have added hundreds of dollars of actual, visible worth to this famous motor car.

They have added an incalculable measure of enjoyment to Nash ownership. Yet they have added nothing to Nash price.

At no extra cost, you have the Twin Ignition motor, the year's outstanding motoring improvement (more power, more speed, less gasoline).

You have costly car interior finishes, Bijur Centralized Chassis Lubrication, Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers, bumpers front and rear, even a spare tire lock, and not a dollar added to the price.

Equipment which other dealers (not Nash dealers) charge extra for, at retail prices, is included in every Nash "400" model, as it comes from the factory, at no extra cost.

That is why you will find that "400," fully equipped, delivered prices are so much less than other cars with similar or even lower factory (f. o. b.) prices. Compare the cars, compare the prices, before you buy your new car.

Owners of DODGE TRUCKS call it PAY LOAD

Your pay load is the load of actual merchandise you deliver—the load of the actual commodity you haul—whatever the size of the truck, whatever the nature of the load. There is no profit in hauling the truck itself, or the body. That's expense.

Dodge Truck owners know the dollars-and-cents meaning of Pay Loads. That's why there are so many Dodge owners.

Excess weight was engineered out of Dodge Trucks long ago.

For your information—for comparison, and we invite it—we will be glad to go into the detail of sizes, weights and prices on the 51 standard Dodge Truck Chassis.

Lesson for April 14

HEZEKIAH LEADS HIS PEOPLE BACK TO GOD

LESSON TEXT—II Chronicles 30: 1-27.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord your God is gracious and merciful.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Helping Others to Know God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Helping Others to Know God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Leader With a High Purpose.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Influence of a Good Ruler.

1. Hezekiah Proclaims a Passover (vv. 1-12).

The way for a sinning and divided people to get back to God and be united is around the crucified Lord. The Passover was a memorial of the nation's deliverance through the shedding of the blood of the sacrificed lamb.

1. The invitation was representative of the nation (v. 2). The king took counsel with the princes and the congregation to show that the proclamation was the expression of the nation's desire.

2. The time was unusual (vv. 2-4). There was not sufficient time to sanctify the people, nor to gather them together at the regular time; so they resolved instead of postponing it for a year to hold it on the fourteenth day of the second month. This liberty had been granted before in an emergency (Num. 9:9-13).

3. The scope of the invitation (vv. 5-9).

It included all of both nations who would come to keep the Passover to the Lord God of Israel. "Israel" is now used to include both kingdoms. The effort was intended to win back the nation which had seceded. The messengers were authorized to supplement the proclamation with urgent exhortation to restore a united nation. This urgent invitation was tactfully put as follows:

(1) It touched ancestral memories—"Turn again unto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac and Israel" (v. 6).

(2) Recalled bitter experience—"Be not like your fathers and brethren, who trespassed against the Lord God, and were given up to desolation, as ye see" (v. 7).

(3) Aroused yearning for captive kinsfolk—"Your brethren and children shall find compassion before their captors" (v. 9).

(4) Stirred instinct of self-preservation—"So that they shall come again unto this land" (v. 9).

(5) Pledged forgiving mercy of God (v. 9). "God will not turn any sincere seeker away from Him."

4. Israel's reception of the invitation (vv. 10-12).

This invitation Israel met with a mingled reception.

(1) Some mocked. The urgent and sincere invitation only excited opposition and ridicule. (2) Some with humble hearts came to Jerusalem.

In Judah, God gave them one heart to accept the summons to unite in the Lord around the great Passover.

11. The Passover Kept (vv. 13-27).

1. Altars removed (vv. 13, 14).

In the time of Ahab (28:24) these heathen altars were erected in Jerusalem. Before there could be worship of the true God all traces of idolatry must be removed. This voluntary act of the people showed a right spirit.

2. The Passover killed (v. 15).

The zeal of the people showed in their going forward with the service, though the priests were not ready for their task.

3. The priests and Levites ashamed (vv. 15-20).

The zeal of the people put to shame the priests and Levites, stimulating them to perform their duties according to the law as given by Moses. The Levites then took charge of the killing of the Passover. Though many of the people were ceremonially unprepared to take part in the most sacred service, they were accepted as worshippers through the intercession of Hezekiah. God accepted the purpose of heart rather than the letter of the law.

4. The praise of glad hearts (vv. 21, 22).

They continued seven days with gladness: (1) The Levites and priests sang God's praise daily with loud instruments (v. 21); (2) Hezekiah spoke comforting words to the Levites (v. 22). He commended them and their teaching of the knowledge of God. (3) They made confession of their sins to God (v. 22).

5. The Passover prolonged seven days (vv. 23-27).

The king's object in prolonging the feast was to make as lasting an impression as possible, so as to result in the thorough conversion of their souls to God. Even the strangers that came out of Israel participated in the rejoicing. This shows that the purpose in prolonging the feast was realized. Not since the days of Solomon had there been such an occasion. The feast closed with prayer to God for all the people.

AN Antidote for LONELINESS

To you modern women, telephone service in your home means freedom from the pangs of loneliness. For it stands ready to bridge the gulf between you and your friends in town, or those in distant places.

And what of the sense of security afforded by the telephone? What a comfort it is to know that in case of emergencies you are within instant touch of the various protective agencies—the police, hospitals, doctors, fire department.

Have you ever reckoned the cost of telephone service compared to the comforts and conveniences it returns to you?

Enjoy Hay Ride.

About twenty-five or thirty young people from the intermediate Junior E. Y. P. U. enjoyed a most delightful hay ride last Friday night. Mr. Lloyd Lott is leader of this group of young people. This entertainment was a reward from one group of the Union to another group in a recent contest and Mr. J. M. Moss, sponsor, had it in charge. Mrs. E. L. Betz chaperoned the crowd. Delicious ice cream was served the guests after an enjoyable ride to Oxberry.

Exactly what you need!

For the small family, a "five foot" refrigerator is usually sufficient. But consider what else you get in the famous Copeland N-5-Special:

Over 5 cu. ft. storage; over 74 sq. ft. shelf area; lacquered steel exterior; solid one-piece porcelain interior; Coldray for crisping salads; no unsanitary drain pipe; 108 ice cubes, 6.95 lbs. ice; 3 ice trays, 1 double-depth for frozen desserts.

Economical, quiet operation, and low price. The model N-5-Special is only $210 at factory—compare that with any other self-contained electric refrigerator and you'll quickly realize the surplus value Copeland gives.

Of course there are other Copelands—all sizes, all colors, all prices. But we believe this N-5-Special is exactly what you need!

MAKE YOUR FEET HAPPY

TOWNES-KIMBROUGH CO.

Mrs. Deak Has Club.

Mrs. Roy Deak entertained her bridge club Wednesday afternoon at her lovely home on South Street. Mrs. Donald Sharp held score after four series of games and received a set of patty shell molds as prize.

At the close of the games delicious refreshments were served to the following guests: Mesdames John Bradley, George Garner, C. B. Huggins, Ben Perry, Raphael Semmes, Donald Sharp, Bob Townes, Earl Workman, Malcolm Lawrence and J. H. Boosey, Mrs. Berkley and Miss Juliette Doak.

Mrs. Penn Has Circle.

Circle No. 1 of the Methodist Woman's Missionary Society met with their leader, Mrs. Ernest Penn, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. A. W. Stokes, mission study leader, gave the last chapter of the study book on "What Next in Missions".

After a short business session, Mrs. Penn served a delightful salad course to the following members present: Mesdames Ed Heath, A. W. Stokes, Grady Triplett, Peyton Irby, Herman Heath, Paul Sisk, Joe G. Thomas and R. T. Seales.

Circle Meets with Mrs. Mohler

Mrs. E. G. Mohler entertained the members of Circle No. 3 of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church Monday afternoon at her home on College Boulevard with eleven members present.

Mrs. Bruce Newsom, president of the society, presented several matters of business to the circle which were discussed and passed on. After the mission study lesson was given, Mrs. Mohler served delicious strawberry ice cream and cake.

Circle and League Meet.

The King's Daughters held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Ray Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. A. W. Stokes led the devotional followed by the regular business session.

Immediately after this meeting the Civic League met and perfected plans for beautifying the city. The week of April 22 was set aside as "Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week" and every one is urged and requested to co-operate with the league in this campaign.

Mrs. Hazel James visited her cousin, Miss Cathryn Barham, at Crenshaw, a Grenada College student, who went home for the Easter holidays, returning home the first of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Deen and son, Bobby, of Tupelo, came over Saturday to visit Mrs. Deen's sister, Mrs. H. A. Hoffman. Mr. Deen returned home Sunday but Mrs. Deen and Bobby remained over for the rest of this week.

Miss Hal Washington, of Starkville, is visiting Misses Clyde and Fanny Lee Parker at Graysport, having arrived Tuesday of this week.

Rev. E. R. Henderson filled his regular preaching appointment in Lee County Sunday morning.

Mrs. John Bradley and sister, Mrs. Joseph Bradley, visited their sister, Mrs. Edgar Johnson, in Wiltona last Thursday.

The friends in Grenada of Mrs. W. A. Carl, who formerly lived here, will be sorry to hear of her death at her home in Moorhead Wednesday morning. Funeral services were held Thursday morning at Moorhead.

Mrs. E. B. Province spent Saturday and Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. Jennie M. Hardy, at Blue Mountain College, returning Sunday night.

Mr. R. L. Bradley came up from Jackson Saturday and remained until Wednesday with his daughter, Mrs. Henry Pope, and son, Dick Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Henderson, of Texas, were the guests of Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Henderson Monday. They were en route to Pontotoc to visit their father and mother, Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Henderson, and were accompanied by Mrs. E. R. Henderson and son, Jessie Lowe, who remained until Wednesday.

Additional Locals

Patton-Vesey.

Dr. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church, said the words that united in marriage Miss Catherine Vesey and Mr. Moody C. Patton, the ceremony taking place at the minister's home on Third Street Sunday, April 7, at 7 o'clock p. m.

Mr. Patton is a court stenographer. He is a young man who has many warm personal friends over this section and enjoys the esteem of those who know him. His home is in Oxford. His bride is a most charming young lady in every way and is a member of a prominent Oxford family.

Mr. L. V. Sutton, of Jackson, vice president and manager of the Mississippi Power & Light Co., was in Grenada last Saturday incidentally getting better acquainted with the local office force of his company and making new acquaintances.

Mr. Sutton, though yet quite a young man, is showing himself in every way equipped and qualified for the big task he has. He has an analytical mind, and while careful about details, has done what many executives in important places have erred in not doing, and that is he is not undertaking to keep on his finger tips all the affairs of his company but has done the wise thing to leave to heads of the different departments things that the departments should handle. Mr. Sutton is a most pleasant and affable gentleman. The Sentinel enjoyed his call at this office.

J. H. Neely, W. W. Whitaker and G. M. Lawrence, accompanied by J. Robert McLarty, of Water Valley, leave this morning by automobile for the Rio Grande valley of Texas where they expect to spend several days.

Her many friends are welcoming home Mrs. Myrtle W. Boyd, who returned a few days ago from Memphis where she has been for some months as matron of the Baptist Hospital Nurses' Home. Mrs. Boyd's health has not been of the best and her physician advised her to give up her duties there. Her friends join in the hope that she will rapidly regain her strength.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Pleasants, of Minter City, were guests Sunday of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Calhoun.

Mrs. J. J. Williams, Jr., arrived a few days ago from her home in Sarasota, Fla. to visit her father, Mr. T. E. Moody, and her sister, Mrs. John W. Bradley, on South Street.

Mr. J. L. Avert and wife spent several days last week in Jackson visiting. From there Mr. Avert made a trip to visit a sister in Louisiana.

Their many friends share in the anxiety of the family over the condition of Mrs. W. B. Hoffa, who has been critically ill for several days. The hope is generally expressed that she soon will be on the road to a complete restoration to health.

Judge Donald S. Wright was in Grenada during the past week-end to visit his mother and to attend the preaching service at the Presbyterian church being conducted by Rev. J. R. Cunningham. Judge Wright is judge of the county court of Leflore county. His record as a judge shows that no mistake was made in placing him in this judicial position. Grenada feels that Judge Wright is one of its many fine young men which it has sent out to serve other sections and communities.

Our Taxes Run Industries Out
If the high tax rate required to build a half-way system of highways for industries to come into the State over, caused these same industries to go out of the state over, we fail to see where the state will be benefitted. Must Grow Feed Stuff.
"That Mississippi must grow her feed stuff is evident to every thinking man, even though cotton continues as the principal money crop as in past years. There can be no diversified farming and no security in any kind of farming until the necessary feed stuffs are produced at home. If we are to hold and increase the development in the dairy industry which has been so remarkable during recent years, the production of feed crops is still more necessary."

"It is always easy to present the cheerful view of any subject, always difficult to present the opposite law. Yet here are facts that cannot be ignored, and here is an agricultural problem, that if continued will surely bring disaster to our state. We must increase the corn yield. In no other way can we bring stability and permanent prosperity to Mississippi agriculture."—Indianola Enterprise.

Bond Advocates Unfavorable

Advertising Mississippi
If people who do not know better would heed the wild statements of the advocates of the Bilbo 82 million dollar road bond program, they would not attempt to travel by automobile in Mississippi. To her these Bilbo advocates tell it, Mississippi is deep in the mire and mud, so far as roads are concerned, and unless the 82 millions of dollars are provided at once, the state of Mississippi will be forever beyond redemption. This is just another argument being used in an effort to secure the passage of a bill giving Gov. Bilbo complete control of millions of dollars to build roads.

There is hardly a main highway in Mississippi on which a car cannot be safely driven 30 to 50 miles an hour and to say that it is impossible to travel over Mississippi roads is not being fair and honest in argument. Mississippi must and will keep pace with other states in road building, but would it not be better to be careful how it is done, so that a maximum of every dollar spent may be secured and with a minimum of liability to the already overburdened taxpayer.

Much is being said about enticing tourists through Mississippi with hard surfaced highways. That is a phase of the matter which should not be overlooked, but in thinking of it comes to mind a story which perhaps fits the occasion better than a column of argument. A stranger stopped to eat dinner with a farmer and the good wife began to apologize for the food on the table. The farmer immediately took the matter up along this line: "Don't apologize. You and I have raised our family on this kind of stuff and it has not hurt one of them yet, and I guess our friend can stand it for one meal."—Batesville Panolian.

Whose Politics To Forget.
Quite often these days we hear of some leader among politicians suggesting that we forget politics, all of us, and get down to work. Especially is this thought applied to the proposed highway legislation. If we are going to forget politics, we are wondering whose politics we will be called upon to forget.—McComb City Enterprise.

Delta Protesting Tax Increase
The constant increase in taxes is causing many to wonder how we are to hold our lands and other property and pay the increasing living expenses and high taxes that are taking their toll of our earnings. Many people are now unable to "make the grade" and are being sold out and their properties are passing into other hands. If our expenses keep increasing there will not be many of us here much longer to enjoy what we have been taxed to pay for, thus, again that splendid idea of "pay as you go" appeals to us as never before and we hope that our legislators, our supervisors and our several officers, state, county and city, will adopt the slogan and stop the issuance of bonds and run our affairs on a safe, sound and business like method.—Indianola Enterprise.

Jury Picking Premium On Ignorance

In any proposed reform of our judicial machinery, such, for instance, as the president is contemplating, the matter of getting juries, especially in criminal cases, ought not to be overlooked. In a case now before our criminal court 325 persons had, up to this morning, been called for jury service, and out of them all it had been found impossible to select a jury. Fifty more men will report Monday morning. This is said to be a record for Marion county. It is not one to be proud of. This whole jury business is wrong. The result of its management is to put a premium on ignorance and non-intelligence in jurymen. Objections of the most frivolous nature are often urged, and sustained by judges. Comparison is often made with the English system and method, but such comparison is inevitable and not to the credit of America. In English courts the regular jury tries case after case, and there is no thought of objecting to it. But with us the presumption is against the jury, and every member thereof. Often weeks are required to get a jury of non-newspaper-reading men, men who have never discussed the case at bar and never heard anyone else do so. It is all wrong, foolishly and childishly wrong.—Indianapolis News.

The Tomb of Prentiss Must Be Repaired
The Natchez Democrat in an editorial in a recent issue, is urging that a sum of money be raised to be expended in making needed repairs to, and beautifying the last resting place of the lamented S. S. Prentiss, which is located on the outskirts of that city. Prentiss, an adopted son of Mississippi, was one of the great men and orators of all time, and so all loyal sons of the Magnolia state should love to honor his memory. Those who have visited the grave of the matchless Prentiss fully realize that repairs are needed. We feel, however, that this is not the work of our Natchez friends alone, but of the people of Mississippi also. We here and now call upon Gov. Bilbo and our legislators to see to it that this duty that we owe to the memory of this distinguished former citizen be delayed no longer, and that a sum of money sufficient to make the needed repairs and to further beautify the place be appropriated by the state Legislature at its next session. Most certainly there is not a man in Mississippi, who has any appreciation of the services rendered by this great Mississippian, who would vote against such an appropriation. Let this matter be carried on to an early consummation, and so a long deferred duty to Mississippi's most gifted citizen will be performed. Representatives Stockett and Farrar, of this county, will gladly join the representatives from Adams county in presenting and working for such a bill.—Woodville Republican.

High Cost of Gambling
The average of "call loan" money in New York during the month of March was over 8 per cent, more than twice as much as it was two years ago in a normal month. It was, too, about twice as much as the dividends accruing from the average stock dealt in, at current prices.

During one hectic week the loan rate for stock gambling money averaged 15 per cent. This was on more than $5,000,000,000. Wall Street statisticians estimated the daily interest charges paid by the stock operators at $2,281,158.—Hattiesburg American.

MISSISSIPPI BREVITIES

UNSAFE SAFETY
Five weeks ago Sherrow Davis of Columbus, was married. Last week he was showing friends a revolver, demonstrating the efficacy of its safety catch. Said he, "It can't shoot with this safety on." But it shot, killed him.

WEALTHY FISH
The fact that a fish has money will not keep him out of the skillet at Edgewater Gulf Hotel. Chef John Gilbert, cleaning a Spanish mackerel, he had just caught in the Gulf, found a $5 bill entangled in its gills. John thanked his fish, fried him.

SWEET ACCIDENT
Sweeter than honey, last week, were the waters of First Bayou, near Henderson Point. Bitter as gall was a New Orleans truck driver. On his first trip to Mississippi, the driver had attempted to cross an abandoned bridge, fell through with truck trailer, and 3,500 pounds of sugar.

LOST PARSON
On Sundays for many a month preacher F. F. Coggins has admonished Methodists from a Pheba pulpit. On week days he has dished out change and cash from the cage of Pheba's bank. Recently he went to West Point to swap big bills for more change and cash. Neither Methodists nor bankers have seen him since.

FATE
Robert Johnson killed a man, got himself in the pen. Last week from the governor's office came a suspension. Robert thought it was fate, found later it was a mistake. The suspension was intended for another man. Johnson was re-caught, returned.

UNARMED
H. E. Rester drove his coupe with his right hand, let his left dangle outside the window. As he neared Foxworth he felt a blow looked out at his arm, found it not there. A passing truck had knocked it neatly off.

HELPFUL MATE
A husband in need is a husband indeed. So reasoned Mrs. W. L. King as she watched her mate tussle with a bottlelegger. Seeing him about to be worsted she got his shotgun, waited till he turned the legger round her way, helped out with a load of birdshot.

ROCKY EXPERIENCE
Pugilistic Angus Wills, Hattiesburg, threw a tiny rock with all his three-year-old might at Russell Phillips, 11. Much offended, Russell replied with a 12-pound block of concrete. Neither shot found its mark, but Russell a lot, and this disturbed state of mind reacted on my health.

"I had often read of Cardui, so I thought I would try it. I soon began to improve after I had taken Cardui for a while. It was astonishing how much I picked up. I slept better; my appetite improved, and that awful dragging-down feeling left me. I was so much better that I continued taking Cardui until I felt perfectly well. Cardui has been used by women for over 50 years. For sale by all druggists."

received a $5 fine, a severe reprimand from a county court.

BAD BREAK
Into Laurel drove a man from Alabama who complained loudly that he had been driving terribly hard, but seemed unable to get anywhere. While he talked his car burst into flames. Firemen found he had been driving with his brakes set tight, was ignorant of the trouble.

FROM JERSEY
Arch Dalrymple of Amory runs no risk of buying counterfeit dairy cows. So anxious is he that his Jerseys be genuine that he has them shipped straight from the island of Jersey. Last week he received his second shipment.

Mr. Frank Gerard entertained the members of the Young People's Service League Friday night with a most enjoyable "social", at her hospitable home on College Street. As the guests arrived they registered in a book presided over by Miss Pond McCampbell. Each one was given a number which she used during the evening for the various contests, the first being one in which Miss Elizabeth Wilkins succeeded best in carrying out instructions written on a piece of paper and drawn by each guest. She was presented a novelty ring as prize.

In the observation contest Misses Mary Jane Tatum and Mary Alice Kettle tied and each received an attractive novelty pin.

After several interesting games were played, delicious ice cream and individual cakes in pink and green with crystallized cherries on top, were served to the following:
Misses Mary Phelan Brown, Eloise

last Friday from a most enjoyable trip to Florida and to relatives at Pocahontas and Leland.

Mr. T. E. Moody, grand junior warden of the Grand Commandery of the Knights Templar, and
Dr. W. H. Whitaker, of Yalobusha Commandery No. 28, attended the 69th convocation of the commandery in session at Meridian this week.

Miss Dorothy Sanders, of Leland, was the guest of her aunt,
the first of the week, returning home Wednesday.

Mrs. G. W. Jennings and mother, Mrs. J. A. Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mosly and two chilren, Betty Ray and Mary Ann, visited relatives in Carrollton
Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans Townes, of Minter City, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Trusty Sunday having come over to attend the services at the Presbyterian church conducted by Dr. J. R. Cunningham.

ence in Jackson from Friday until Sunday night: Misses Mary Charlotte Clark, Katherine Cole, Mary Frances Word, Will Cordell, Mary
Miller Murray, Lucille Pierce,
Gladys York, Edna Mae Simonds,
Adelle Mounser and Mildred Townsend. Dr. J. R. Countiss and Miss Virginia Thomas, of Grenada College faculty also attended the meeting.

This was the first meeting of the assembly and a most helpful and inspiring program was carried out. It was voted to hold next year's session here at Grenada College. Mr. Jeff Cunningham,
Ole Miss, son of Rev. and Mrs. E.
H. Cunningham, of Grenada, was elected president of the conference and Miss Mary Charlotte Clark, of Grenada College, was elected vice president. This is quite an honor for Grenada as all the higher colleges of the state compose the conference and out of the large number of members, Grenada and Grenada College are furnishing the two highest officers for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox Winton, who had been spending ten days in Hot Springs, reached home Sunday.

Mrs. O. E. Slaughter, of Memphis, spent Sunday with Mrs. C.
E. Lockett.

is visiting his son, Mr. Grady Triplett, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Barwick had as their guests Sunday, Mrs. N.
B. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Victor
Hauff and daughter, Miss Nannie
Boyd Hauff, and Miss Sarah
Dickens Boyd, all of Glen Allen.
Mesdames Boyd and Hauff are sisters of Mrs. Barwick.

Mr. and Mrs. George Granberry and two children, Nancy Nelson and George, Jr., of Greenwood, came over Wednesday night and will remain until Sunday night with their sister, Miss Mary Thomas.

Mrs. B. F. Thomas is visiting her sister, Mrs. Margaret Black, and other relatives in Memphis,
having gone up Thursday morning. She will be gone until the middle of next week.

Mr. E. R. Proudft spent Monday and Tuesday in Columbus with his sister, Mrs. J. B. Van DeGrift, having made the trip through the country with Mr. Henry Pope, who went over to Columbus on business. They returned Tuesday night.

Dr. J. H. Boosey spent Wednesday in Jackson and was accompanied home by his daughter, Miss Margaret, Dr. and Mrs. Boosey

Entertainers

Mrs. J. H. Biddy entertained with a most delightful lawn party
Friday afternoon in honor of her Sunday School class, and her niece, Miss Bonnie Jean Biddy, of Montgomery, Ala., who is visiting her.

Many enjoyable games were played and delicious ice cream cones were served during the afternoon. Little dolls in wee baskets were presented each child as favors which pleased them greatly and added much to their pleasure.

Master John Preston Biddy assisted his mother in entertaining her guests who were the following: Misses Bonnie Jean Biddy, Vonnelle Wilson, Peggy Spain,
Mary Jane Crabtree, Nina Roane,
Georgia Mae McCoy, Katherine
Clanton, Juanita Smith and Elizabeth Turner.

The following elementary and high school teachers of the Grenada city schools are among those attending the state teachers convention in Jackson this week:
Misses Ruth Curry, Mae Boswell,
Floye Wood, Hattie Hammond,
Estelle Turner and Corinne Byrd
and Mrs. R. E. L. McNair.

Mrs. C. H. Calhoun left Wednesday for Greenville to be with her sister, Mrs. Will McGehee, who has been quite ill for several months.

Mrs. L. T. Hill, of Elliott, spent
the first of the week with her sister, Mrs. J. C. Prose.

Their many Grenada friends are welcoming Mr. and Mrs. P. G.
Moseley, who have returned after several months' absence. They are with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Calhoun on Main Street.

Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. W. R. Todd entertained a number of young people Saturday afternoon with a most delightful picnic party for her daughter, Miss Rachel, in honor of her twelfth birthday from 3:00 until 5:30 o'clock.

After all the guests had arrived
Mrs. Todd carried them to the ice cream factory for ice cream cones and thence to Bledsoe's where most enjoyable games were played. Sandwiches and coca cola were served during the afternoon's entertainment.

The following girls and boys were those who helped Rachel celebrate: Miss Lucy Webb
Sharp, Sarah Jane Tatum, Martha Hoffa, Alice Lee Triplett, Peggy Spain, Constance Thompson, and Marjorie Lester and Dick Bradley, Henry Ray, Joe
Stevens and Frank and Gus Gerard.

Mrs. Todd was assisted in entertaining the young people by Mrs. Frank Gerard.

Mrs. L. T. Hill, of Elliott, spent
the first of the week with her sister, Mrs. J. C. Prose.

Their many Grenada friends are
welcoming Mr. and Mrs. P. G.
Moseley, who have returned after several months' absence. They are

GREAT PROGRAM PLANNED FOR CHAUTAUQUA WEEK

Three great plays, "Skidding", "Sun-up" and "Rip Van Winkle", the John Ross Reed Musical Revue and the noted European concert artists, the Garay Sisters, are among the many big attractions which will appear here during the coming Redpath Chautauqua. The Chautauqua will open May 10 and continue for five eventful days packed with music, entertainment, lectures and surprising novelty features.

"Sun-Up", powerful drama of the Carolina mountains which will be presented on the fourth night by the well-known Sprague Players, is said to be one of the really outstanding contributions to American drama of recent years. It tells a thrilling story of the forces let loose by the World War in the lives of simple, primitive Carolina mountaineers isolated from the world. There are many humorous turns to the play but on the whole it is intensely dramatic.

On the afternoon of the fourth day the Sprague Players will present that great favorite of American audiences, "Rip Van Winkle". Herbert Sprague is considered the greatest "Rip" since the days of Joseph Jefferson. He uses Jefferson's own version of this beautiful old play. Here is a play whose charm is unending, and whose interest is as great for grown-ups as it is for the children.

"Skidding", the popular comedy hit which will be the feature of the second night, comes straight from Broadway. "Skidding" is an intriguing mixture of love and politics, told with a freshness and charm, all too rare in the theatre today. It contains a sure-fire recipe for uproarious laughter. Taken as a tonic in three doses it makes for one of the most enjoyable evenings imaginable. It is presented by a New York cast.

John Ross Reed and his company will be the attraction of the fifth day, giving two great entertainments, one in the afternoon and one at night. John Ross Reed, internationally known baritone, Columbia recording artist and popular actor, brings a wonderful production to the Chautauqua platform. With a distinguished company of artists he presents dramatic artistic presentations of scenes from grand opera, Russian vaudeville and original musical sketches. So elaborate and so cleverly designed is the gorgeous scenery used that it is a revelation in platform scenic possibilities.

The Ramos Mexican Orchestra, who open the Chautauqua with their grand concert on the first afternoon, bring to Redpath audiences the fascinating music of their native land. The charm of Old Mexico, the land of the gay caballero, breathes through their enchanting melodies.

Amazing young artists are Elisabeth Garay, violinist, and Yalanda Garay, violinist, of Budapest and Florence. The Redpath Bureau's musical director made a special trip to Europe to secure these noted virtuosos. They have scored brilliant triumphs in concert work in the leading music centers of Europe, and their appearance here will be a distinct musical event.

An Arctic hero from the frozen wastes of Siberia will tell his thrilling adventures in escaping from the Bolsheviks, on the first night of Chautauqua. Capt. Sigurdur K. Gudmundson, two-fisted native of Iceland, tells a gripping story of the breath-taking experiences he encountered on a 2200 mile trip across the Arctic wilderness.

The speaker of the third night of Chautauqua will be Chancellor George H. Bradford, one of the ablest and best-known dramatic orators in the country. Chancellor Bradford's stimulating, inspiring lecture, "This Way Up", should not be missed by any citizen in the community.

An American girl with the temerity and the ambition to sail around the world alone to discover the how and the why of things, Miss Lethe Coleman, will tell of the experiences of her voyage, on the second afternoon. Miss Coleman is a charming girl and a delightful speaker. "An American Girl Sails Around the World" is her lecture subject.

Chautauqua week is a good-time week for the boys and girls. New games, new stories, hikes and picnics, parades and contests and stunts make it a gala week for the children. One of the most important features of Chautauqua is Junior Town, where boys and girls elect their own mayor, marshal, town clerk and learn to take the responsibility of citizenship. Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon this department, as today's juniors will be tomorrow's citizens. A capable junior supervisor will be in charge.

Another Fallacy . .

A manufacturer of hotel supplies was talking shop. "We've been right here for thirty years and we know every hotel man in our territory and they all know us. They know what we sell and they're going to buy from us as they need. There's only so much business to be had, anyway, and if we advertised we couldn't increase our business."

But this man overlooked just two things.

One of them is that during recent years another generation of young hotel men has come upon the scene, and among these youngsters this manufacturer's name is not such a household word as it was among the other fellows.

The other thing he overlooked is that he has competition that did not exist years ago. These competing supply houses are aggressive and they're getting a lot of the business that formerly came to this manufacturer.

There's no such thing as being so well known that folks will patronize you whether you go after the business or not.

A good way to test this out is to let us print some advertising matter about your merchandise and have it mailed to a selected list of your prospects. Enclose an order blank and a return envelope and watch results.

Whether you sell peanut butter or cooking stoves the logic is the same. Direct mail matter will not only keep the business you have, it will build additional business among the scores of new customers that spring up year after year.

A RESOLUTION

The following resolution was introduced, its adoption moved and seconded and put to a vote. Aldermen E. C. Neely, W. E. Jackson, J. H. Murray, H. L. Honeycutt, L. C. Proby, voting for its passage, there being no votes against same, and the following aldermen being absent and not voting, viz, J. P. Pressgrove, it was declared duly adopted and ordered entered on the Minutes as follows:

A Resolution providing for the issuance of twelve thousand five hundred dollars of refunding bonds of the City of Grenada, Mississippi, to take up and pay off bonds of said city maturing on July 1st, 1929, issued July 1st, 1909 for the purpose of enlarging the white public school building of said city.

Whereas on July 1st, 1909, the city of Grenada, Mississippi, did issue its bonds to the amount of twelve thousand five hundred dollars for the purpose of enlarging and adding to the White Public School Building of said city, which said bonds will mature and become due and payable on July 1st, 1929;

Whereas none of the principal of said bonds has been paid but all of said bonds are outstanding against said city and are unpaid and will become payable on July 1st, 1929;

Whereas there are no funds in the city treasury with which to pay the principal, or any part of the principal of said bonds, and it is therefore necessary that the city shall borrow a sufficient sum of money with which to pay said principal of said bonds by the issuance, as provided by law, of refunding bonds.

Be it, therefore, resolved by this Board in regular session:

Sec. 1. That for the purpose of raising funds to take up and pay off the principal of twelve thousand five hundred dollars of said bonds aforesaid, it is the intention of this Board at its regular May, 1929, meeting, to be held at the Mayor's Office in said city on May 6th, 1929, at 7:30 p. m. o'clock to issue the negotiable, coupon bonds of said city to the amount of twelve thousand, five hundred dollars. Said bonds shall be dated July 1st, 1929, and shall be sold for not less than par and shall bear interest at a rate not greater than six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and July, and the proceeds of the sale of said bonds shall not be used for any other purpose than the purpose for which they will be issued. Said bonds shall mature and become payable annually, with all maturities not longer than 25 years, and with not less than one-fiftieth of the total issue to mature each year during the first five years of the life of said bonds, and not less than one-twenty-fifth of said total issue to mature annually during the succeeding ten year period of the life of said bonds and the remainder to be divided into approximately equal payments, one payment to mature during each year for the remainder of the life of said bonds, as provided by law.

Sec. 2. That this resolution be published in Grenada Sentinel, a newspaper published and having a general circulation in said city, for three weeks, as provided by law, and unless twenty per cent. or more of the qualified electors of said city shall on or before May 6th, 1929, at 7:30 p. m. o'clock file a written protest against the issuance of said bonds, they will be issued without submitting the question of the issuance thereof to an election, the Board hereby finding, declaring and adjudging that the City of Grenada, Mississippi, is, in fact and by every census of its inhabitants, a city of less than twelve thousand inhabitants.

Sec. 3. That this resolution take effect and be in force from and after passage.

Approved: W. S. P. DOTY,

Attest: WILLIE Y. WEST,

AN ORDINANCE

The following ordinance was offered for adoption, and after being read and considered by the Board it was moved and seconded that the same be adopted as read, the Mayor then put the question to a vote and the ayes and noes being taken, the vote stood as follows:

AYES: E. C. Neely, W. E. Jackson, L. C. Proby, J. H. Murray, H. L. Honeycutt; NOES: ABSENT AND THOSE NOT VOTING: J. P. Pressgrove.

WHEREUPON, the Mayor declared that the Ordinance having received a legal majority of the votes cast was duly and lawfully adopted, as follows:

AN ORDINANCE — Levying within the City of Grenada, Mississippi, a Tax on all Privileges Taxed by the State of Mississippi, not Exempt from Municipal Taxes, and Prescribing Penalties for Non Payment of said Taxes.

Be It Ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Grenada, Mississippi, as follows, to-wit:

SECTION 1—A tax is hereby levied on privileges within the City of Grenada, Mississippi, as follows:

On all privileges, as respectively taxed by the State of Mississippi, from time to time, not exempt from municipal taxes, a city privilege tax equal to fifty per cent of the tax specifically levied by the State; except such privileges where a different tax is now provided, or may hereafter be provided, by special Ordinance.

SECTION 2—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, or association, to exercise within the corporate limits of the said City of Grenada, any privilege taxed by the said city, without first having paid the tax levied and procured the required license therefor; and every day that any privilege so taxed is exercised in violation of this Ordinance shall constitute a separate offense, and shall subject the offender, upon conviction, for each offense, to a fine of not over $200, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding ninety days, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 3—All persons, firms, corporations, or associations, liable to the City of Grenada, Mississippi, for taxes on privileges, who shall fail to pay such tax and obtain the required license therefor before exercising any such privilege or who shall fail to pay for and obtain a renewal of any required license for any privilege during the month in which such renewal becomes due, shall in each or either of such instances, in addition to other penalties prescribed, be liable for double the amount of the tax, and it is hereby made the duty of the City Tax Collector to collect the amount, issue a separate license therefor, and endorse across its face the words, "Collected as Damages".

SECTION 4—The tax on privileges herein levied, except where otherwise Provided, shall be an annual tax, to be paid to the City Tax Collector, and the license granted on payment of the tax shall be for one year, shall be issued by the tax collector, and shall state the amount of the tax, the name or description of the privilege licensed, the name of the person, firm, corporation or association to whom granted, and the time for which it is granted and such license shall not be valid for any person, firm or corporation, or association, not named therein, and shall not be transferable, and shall in no wise exempt from taxation any property used in the exercise of the privilege, except as may be specifically provided by law.

The issuance of any such license shall never have the effect to legalize any act, or the use or existence of anything in violation of the laws of the State or of the City of Grenada, now in force or that may hereafter be adopted.

The Dollar and Independence of the United States

The Sentinel is taking for granted that many of its readers will be interested in knowing what this country is worth, financially, and what the dollar did in the World War and what other countries got of this country's money, so it is using from an article by Isaac F. Marcossion which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post of April 6, to give only a glimpse of what is above stated:

When the war began, there were invested by American capital outside of the United States only $2,625,000,000 whereas Great Britain had outside investments of 20 billion, and France 8 billion dollars. In 1928 this country's "foreign commitments" were over 15 billion dollars and in addition to this, the Allied nations owed the United States over 10 billion dollars. Last year, the exports alone from the United States were over 5 billion dollars. Bankers are now lending abroad from one and half to two billion dollars annually. Almost every European country owes this country. Before the World War, the British pound sat at the head of the table at every council of big business, but the American dollar has kicked the British pound around until it has humbled itself and now the dollar is the big boss and sits at the head of the table.

The frenzy in foreign exchange caused by the war brought the value of the U. S. dollar to 84 cents in 1916, and in 1917 to 54 cents, but shortly after that it began to climb until the financial cyclone of 1920 it sank in value to 37 cents at which time the financial wolves feasted on the lambs led to slaughter.

One authority puts the "total direct expenditure" in gold of the World War at $80,687,000,000 of which 69.64 per cent were spent by the Allies including this country and 30.36 per cent by the Central Powers. Altogether there were 57,397,000 men mobilized for the war. At the height of the war, Britain was spending 38 million dollars every 24 hours; France $28,407,339; Russia $20,966,357 and the United States $55,168,366 every 24 hours.

The net war costs of this country, after allowing for foreign debt expectations, is placed at $36,500,000,000 and annual interest charge of 7 billion dollars.

The stupendousness of the cost of the war is better realized when it is considered that the total expenses of the United States government from 1791 up to 1913 were but $24,500,000,000. Britain spent from March 31, 1914 to the same date in 1920, 11,268 million pounds, the equivalent of over 60 billion dollars, more than the total expenditures of that Nation for two and a quarter centuries prior to that date. Nearly 65 per cent of the total war cost was met by borrowing.

The first Liberty Loan Act authorized a 3 billion dollar loan to those countries "engaged in war with the enemies of the United States"; the other Liberty loans of September 1917 and of April and July 1918, provided a total of 10 billion dollars in bonds for the war. The Liberty loans represented money that the high and the rich and the poor poured into the U. S. treasury for the war. The Allied governments signed on the dotted lines, but after the war was over, they began to wiggle and to seek ways, if possible, to keep from paying the money back to this government. They were bold enough to say that the money they borrowed and which they promised sacredly to pay back, was "a joint contribution to a common cause". The Allies plead for this money when they needed it so badly, yet they squirmed around about fixing the proper documents after the war, and finally this country scaled the debts shamefully and to the point that the tax payers of the U. S. will have to pay an annual interest charge of over $397,000,000 on the part of the debt canceled. Britain was the first to adjust her war debt to this country; France has not done so yet. It is said that France must come to a show down in August of this year for it is at that time that the money France borrowed in 1919 to purchase war supplies comes due. The amount is $406,000,000. This country's exact total loans to foreign countries were $10,338,000,000 of which $3,261,000,000 were loaned after the Armistice was signed.

The total exports of this country last year were in exact figures $5,129,000,000 which were $1,339,202,000 more than imports.

Right here it might be well to stick a pin: This country is able to go into foreign markets and sell over 5 billion dollars worth of goods annually, or nearly 1½ billion more than it imports. Still the argument is made that the industries of this country must have a tax placed on all goods shipped in to the United States in order to protect them "against foreign competition". "Big business" of the United States can ship goods 3,000 miles across the ocean and undersell the foreigner, yet it cannot meet him, so it claims, in competition in his own country and at his own door. Let the reader ask himself: "What sort of logic is that?" Is that common sense, and does it not at least appear that the manufacturers and allied interests are mulcting the balance of the country?

CANNOT HUNT SQUIRRELS DURING MONTH OF MAY

Hunters should bear in mind that it is now unlawful to hunt squirrels during the month of May as this month is now a closed one by legislative enactment. Heretofore the month of May was open for this sport. The squirrel season opens on the first day of October and closes on the last day of December of each year.

An Oklahoma Mother Says:

"BLACK-DRAUGHT is a fine medicine to give to children. I use it for mine whenever I need to give them a laxative. They don't mind taking it when I make it into a tea, and it quickly relieves constipation and the bad symptoms which come from it. I can recommend it to other mothers, for I have found it useful in my home."

"When I was a child my mother gave it to me whenever I complained of not feeling well. I have always taken it for upset stomach and constipation. It is about the only medicine I have to take. A few doses of Black-Draught, now and then, keep my system in order. My husband takes it, too. I hardly see how I could keep house without Black-Draught. It has become a standby with us, in keeping the children and ourselves well."—Mrs. Luther Bradford, Claremore, Okla.

REV. J. B. CUNNINGHAM ENDS SERIES OF SERMONS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

plea to get back to cardinal virtues and to that living taught by Christian parents.

He drew a picture of Lot and his wife and three children—just five, getting out of Sodom before God began to rain down fire and brimstone on it to destroy it. Lot went with a sad and broken heart, he said. His party were told not to even look back at the devastation and wreck of this once wealthy city, but the wife did look back and became a pillar of salt. The minister said that regarding some of the present day social affairs they were Sodom-patterned. As an example, he gave the name of a minister of the Presbyterian church who recently called at the home of a family a member of his church. It was about 8:30 o'clock in the morning. The ringing of the door bell, he said, did not bring any response, yet he heard the little children romping and playing on the inside. The minister, he said, found the door unlocked, so he ventured to open it. The children were not dressed and the mother and father were in a stupor on the bed, not having fully recovered, he said, from drink served the night before at a fashionable function. This, the preacher said, was just one of those "little things" that serious minded, religious people of the present day are admonished by "society" to leave alone. Lot, he said, was told a similar thing by his daughters and their libidinous associates in Sodom. To sum it up, the minister emphasized the lesson, "Be careful about where you pitch your tent; be careful about the little things, the little foxes," he said, "destroyed the grapes."

There was no service Saturday night. Sunday night, Mr. Cunningham used as a text, "I will rise and go to my father," a text taken from the parable spoken by Jesus of the prodigal son. The minister said that it seemed to him the parable was misnamed, and that it should be called "The parable of the fidelity of God." He said that the parable of the prodigal son, had been called "The prize short story of the English language." It was a beautiful and compelling exposition of this wonderful subject. Thousands upon thousands of sermons have been delivered about this wayward son, and the writer has heard a great many, but does not believe he ever heard a more sublimely stated or a more lucid and more powerfully appealing sermon than this one by Mr. Cunningham. The father's heart was almost broken, he said, when the boy went away. The father's prayers followed him every day, and when the boy came to himself and returned home, the father gladly took him back; he caressed and petted him and expressed a delight that heaven only could understand. Just as this father, the minister said, yearned for the return of his son and received him when he did come back, so God yearns for the return of every wayward child and is all the time bringing all the power heaven possesses to make his children "come home."

Monday night Mr. Cunningham read some verses from the fifth chapter of Paul's letter to the Ephesians in which was discussed the sanctity of marriage and the duties of wives to their husbands and the duties of husbands to their wives. This was but a prelude to the text taken from Revelation 19:7 and 8. The minister's theme might be named that "The church is the establishment of God." The church is frequently referred to, he said, as the bride of Christ. He dwelt happily on the interest and felicitation everybody has in a bride and in a marriage. How it is that so much effort is put forth by the bride to see that her wedding garments are pure and unsullied and that they are appropriate. This, he sought to show, is the interest that all should have in the purity and the aims of the church. He said that the church, he was sorry to say, had its many imperfections, but that these imperfections were not in the church per se as God ordained it, but in those for the time charged with church leadership. Yet, he said, despite all these imperfections, the church is the purest and most nearly perfect institution in all the world. He said that the church was the only institution that is maintained by voluntary contributions. The minister said he wondered how long the public schools and colleges, as necessary as they are, would operate with voluntary contributions. He wondered how long county and state and the national governments would last if people were allowed to pay taxes as suited them just as they contribute to the church. He pleaded for a higher and a holier consideration of the church. He said that he placed nothing ahead of the home in the religious training and the development of the life of children, but, he said, to have the right sort of parents to train children, there needed to be the right sort of church membership.

Like all Mr. Cunningham's discourses, it was well thought out and delivered in a manner to carry along with him the rapt attention and interest of his congregation. After reading 46 verses of the eleventh chapter of St. John in which is recorded the fatal illness of Lazarus, the brother of Mary and Martha and the friend of Jesus, and the sending of the messenger to Jesus asking that he come and heal him, Lazarus' death and his resurrection, the minister took as a text for his Tuesday evening sermon a part of verse 28 of that chapter which reads: "The Master is come and calleth for thee," words spoken by Martha to her sister, Mary. Mr. Cunningham said that what Martha said to Mary was just as true today, that he is calling for men to come out of self and divers other things that shut out visions of the Most High and that stifle the best that there is in men and women. The want of space forbids following the sermon in detail, which many say eclipsed all other sermons delivered during the minister's series of discourses.

Mr. Cunningham's theme at the closing service was, "Christ's Challenge to the World." The text was Mark 1:17, "Come ye after me, and I will make you." The congregations have been good. Many from the other churches of the town have joined their Presbyterian friends in listening to Mr. Cunningham's live and most persuasive sermons.

national committeeman in order to obtain his job; a Tennessee postmaster declared, also in an affidavit, that he had given $200 and two hogs for his appointment, and an Alabama physician, in a letter, asserted he believed "appointments were and are being given to the highest bidder here in Tuscaloosa and other parts of the state."

In nearly all instances, the Mississippi contributions were described as voluntary, but, in some cases the affidavits carried the inference that all successful candidates for postmastership appointments were expected to donate to the campaign funds.

R. K. Haxton, postmaster at Greenville, Miss., who said he gave the $2,125, declared he subscribed $500 of it in the form of an investment in an insurance company in June, 1921. This company, he said, was "seeking to sell stock to every postmaster in Mississippi."

It was explained to him, he added, that "as the officers were men of strong Republican influence in the state, it would be a mighty good thing to take some stock."

W. T. Heslip, postmaster at Indianola, Miss., who said he gave $425, declared he was shown a letter written by Perry W. Howard, a negro and former Republican national committeeman for that state, who is now under indictment, in which Howard "stated there would be several postoffice vacancies in Mississippi and named Indianola as one of them." His informant, E. P. Booze, Heslip said, told him his share of campaign expenses would be $500, but he finally agreed to pay $200.

C. V. Taylor, postmaster at Clarksdale, Miss., said that he "paid $555 during 1928 to Charles Banks, negro Republican politician," after Banks had approached him with a letter purporting to have been signed by Perry W. Howard wherein Howard stated that Banks, a resident of the negro town of Mound Bayou, wanted $500 and that if he gave it to Banks, everything would be all right.

The letter, Taylor added, conveyed the "impressions that if he paid the sum he would receive the appointment, but if he did not pay, he would not be the successful applicant."

Other affidavits from Mississippi postmasters disclosed the following payments: Albert S. Johnson, Jr., Carthage, $250; H. E. McClure, Ruleville, $200; Mary N. Nettie, Duncan, $125; J. E. Ellard, Leland, $30; Alexander Yates, Utica, $250; Albert S. Russell, Magee, $300; Benson L.

Myers, West Point, $150; L. E. Phillips, Eupora, $375; W. E. Dredon, Lambert, $450; Charles J. Hyde, Meridian, $925; Lee Gray, Corinth, $250; Katie P. Latimer, Shaw, $375; Edward A. Kernaghan, Hattiesburg, $245; George H. Holley, Booneville, $165; H. B. Miller, Gloster, $200; Minnie P. Sharbrough, postmistress at Rolling Fork said she had contributed nothing, although she had been "solicited for funds by Mary C. Boze, of Mound Bayou, and John C. Gales of Nitita Yuma, at different times to defray expenses of delegates to the convention, I believe," she added, "my appointment is being held up because I refused to contribute when they demanded expense money."

BULLDOGS WIN CLOSE GAME

The Grenada Bulldogs won their second district game here last Friday afternoon by defeating the fast Charleston High School team 5-4. The game was a thrilling one from the very beginning, and was won by a two run rally in the ninth inning.

The game started off as a pitching duel between Perkins, Bulldog pitcher and Wolf, Charleston pitching ace. Wolf weakened in the sixth inning and was replaced. Perkins pitched the entire game for Grenada, and although somewhat wild, was very strong in the pinches, striking out fourteen batters. Charles on out hit the local team, but was unable to use its hits to the greatest advantage. The Bulldog hits came at opportune moments.

Williams, Grenada catcher, picked off several Charleston base runners, and played a fine game, scoring the winning run by a beautiful slide on a close play at the plate. The young and inexperienced Bulldog infield showed up to better advantage than in previous games. The Grenada team is looking forward to games with such strong teams as Itta Bena, Drew, Kosciusko and Greenwood, as well as a return engagement with Charleston.

From the bottom of my heart I want to thank all my friends, both white and colored, for their goodness during my recent spell of pneumonia. All of them were so kind and good and their attentions to me, I know, helped me to get well. teachers also attended this meeting. All express themselves as being inspired.

Mrs. Gray, of Brookhaven, Miss., visited her daughter, Miss B. M. Gray, who is teaching in our city school here. She is pleased with our city.

Card of Thanks
We take this method to thank our many friends for their kindness to us in administering to our needs and help in the last sickness of our niece, Mrs. Della Palmer, who was so badly burned at her home in Darling, Miss. May the Lord bless you all.

Respectfully,
E. W. Britt and Family.

Mrs. Della Palmer, a niece of our friend, Mr. E. W. Britt, had the sad misfortune of being accidentally burned so badly that she died. During a moment of vertigo, she fell into the fire at Darling, Miss., and before help reached her was fatally burned. Her uncle,

E. W. Britt, brought her to his home with her two children and cared for her until she died. The husband of this lady was away from home at the time and when he got the news of the accident he suffered a stroke of paralysis and never spoke again after the sad news was broken to him. Mr. Britt is one of our substantial citizens and we express to him our sympathy in his sad hour of trial.

Mrs. S. L. Queen, the daughter of Prof. A. M. Rogers, spent the week-end in the city visiting her father. Mrs. Queen is the wife of Rev. J. J. Queen, who is one of the A. M. E. pastors on the Water Valley district.

Mr. Mack Burt, one of our old citizens, was taken suddenly ill and died after three days' confinement. He was between 50 and 60 years of age and was well known throughout this section. He was at one time Colonel H. H. Barksdale's right hand man and up to his death had resided on that farm. He leaves to mourn their loss a wife and ten children. They have the sympathy of the community.

DR. PARKES AND FAMILY MAKE VISIT TO GRENADA

Dr. Olyn F. Parkes, of Louisville, accompanied by his wife and two interesting little children, drove over Sunday to spend the day with Mrs. Parkes' aunt, Miss Estelle Rollins, and her cousins, Mrs. Craddock Rule and Miss Hazel Inman.

Dr. Parkes was reared in Louisville. His father has long been one of the leading physicians of that section. When the son was nearing his majority, he determined to enter the profession of his father. He equipped himself well and has shown that his father has every reason to feel glad that his son is following in his professional footsteps. Dr. Parkes is not only a fine physician but is a splendid citizen and is keeping thoroughly abreast of the best thought of the day.
